

Honesty and Impeccable Integrity

February 1, 2006

According to the Mayan Calendar we are moving into the age of Integrity. Yeshua Ben Joseph talks about the Apocalypse, which translates as the great uncovering. He said, "No rock shall be left unturned." Can you imagine turning over the political rocks? Can you imagine the deeds that served only a few, the elite at the expense of the masses all coming up to be seen? Can you imagine clarity, a sense of direct knowing and heightening telepathy which allows the masses to see through the double talk? This is what is occurring as we speak and it is increasing exponentially.

One example is you cannot represent Big Oil and say we need to explore alternative energy. They are direct opposites. Alternative fuel is a very small step in the right direction yet it will still be manipulated by the very same people who have brought you the gas gouging windfall profits of the oil companies in times of shortage. What they are saying is we need to drill wildlife sanctuaries and keep the planet killing nuclear waste going. Alternative energy is a whole different animal than alternative fuel. In many cases it is fuel-less, draws from the Sun, Earth energies or the zero point. This is met with violent opposition by big oil. The questions that should be put to our leadership which you will not hear in the main stream media is what about zero point, solar and wind. What is being done to curb nuclear waste which is killing the oceans and rivers not to mention the down winders or those down stream your nuclear facilities which are now showing symptoms of radiation poisoning. Heavy metals fall to the bottom and the bottom feeding fish are riddled with sores and ulcers.

While we are turning over rocks why not turn over the Area 51 rock where antigravity, counter-gravity, and fuel-less zero point energies have been around since the fifties. It is criminal and against God and country to continue to hold back these technologies and pollute the planet and poison the people when we have the alternatives. Another grand deception is the health care industry. Doctors have in most cases been reduced to drug pushers. Where are the cures? This is 2006. We know the body down to the atom. We have mapped the entire genome. It is totally illogical to continue the charade of we can't find a cure. Take big business out of disease and you will have the cures. The only thing we cannot cure is GREED. We had the cure for cancer in 1927. Otto Warburg double Nobel Prize winner gave it to us. Increase the blood oxygen and raise the body PH makes an unsuitable environment for cancer to exist. There are safe, alternative, natural and energetic cures for almost every disease that are viciously attacked by the AMA and the FDA. Why, because they cut into the profits of the Pharmaceutical companies? How can anyone with a heart walk into a children's cancer ward and allow this to continue? Suppressing these new alternative cures is a crime against humanity.

We have an opportunity to take a quantum leap in evolution. We can open the door to the alternative energies and cures. We can restore the health of the planet and its people. Those on the cutting edge of these new technologies are treated like criminals. Every agency of the system comes down on them when all they are trying to do is serve humanity. We exalt and put in power those who perpetuate the problems without asking the big question are you serving humanity or the continuation of capitalizing at the expense of humanity and the Earth. When it came to serving corporate interest and capitalizing at the expense of Humanity and the Earth they made the correct choice. Now is the time we as a civilization make the correct choice. It is also time to stand behind those that are leading this movement. Human evolution has been held hostage far to long. War, disease, pain and suffering can be a thing of the past. It is not up to any one person to lead you out of darkness, it is up to this civilization to awaken to the light of truth and choose to live according to the universal principles and understandings necessary for a healthy society and environment. What are these principles and understandings? Start by being kind to each other and the planet. There is one more point. I am not against anyone. In fact I am serving those who are acting foolishly and creating a mountain of karma or reaction. "As you sew so shall you reap." I am also serving the next generations which include their offspring as well. We can take the downward spiral which will lead to more pain, suffering and the eventual collapse of the economy and environment or the upward spiral in evolution and live a more spiritual wholesome life in harmony with each other and nature. If this civilization is going to continue the second choice is in order.

Be well.
